A Rich Man's Trial
Mexico's Quick Action
A Clown's Death
Plagues, Famine Hounded?

A jury in this case, involving a rich man and a former cabinet officer accused of bribery, will, according to government testimony, be expected, when the case was over, to have an automobile "as long as a city block."

Our prosperous men, especially the very rich, are supposed to get a good example. At least they are interested in maintaining respect for law which protects them, first of all.

What impression is made on the average mind when a detective agency "trails" members of the Fall-Scholar oil firm, plainly seeking some juror that might be bought?

Suppose a detective agency went about examining rich men's houses to find how burglars might most easily break in. Would that be tolerated? Evidently an attack on the jury system in the interests of high finance is different from a burglar's attack on the back door of prosperity.

Mr. Dwight Morrow, recently of J. P. Morgan and Company, is learning about other political methods in Mexico. Three days ago he was eating ham and eggs on President Calles's ranch. To-day he reads that Calles's men caught General Gomez, a rebel, against Calles. Gomez was caught, fleeing through a Mexican canyon. Five minutes later he was dead.

President Calles does not know matters, and those that oppose him, it was, conduct their opposition across the Mexican border, not on Calles's side.

Marceline, famous clown, rose to the top of his profession. See Page 10, Column 1.

entirely without water pressure to combat the flames.

A general conflagration was narrowly averted at Ludlow, Vt., and another fire seriously threatened the neighboring town of Springfield.

Relief is on the way to Cambridge from St. Albans, which is twenty miles distant. Snow and heroic efforts of half the population saved Ludlow, home town of Attorney General John G. Sargent, from being wiped out by fire which swept through a building on the river front and scattered sparks over the house tops.

There was no water pressure, the raging waters having smashed the pipelines, and for two hours water was pumped from the Black River before the flames were under control.

Snow on the roofs saved other buildings and houses from destruction. Disease has claimed at least one life in the flood, while the total of known dead in the great disaster is 150, with indications that the ever-mounting toll will reach 200 or more.

A wireless message received at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology special flood radio station from Associated Press correspondent at Ludlow told of the fire threat.

MILK FAMINE DANGER OVER; SUPPLY SHORT

While Charles F. Adams of the State Commission on the Conservation of Life reported today that the big milk dealers had assured him that danger of a Boston milk famine is small, Commissioner of Agriculture Arthur W. Gilbert said in the face of this statement that New England faces a milk shortage for some time to come.

Said Commissioner Adams: "The dealers reported to me this morning that enough milk is coming to Boston by truck and train from various points in Maine, Connecticut, New York State and even Pennsylvania to insure deliveries of full quotas of milk to the family and hospitals, while the stores will receive more than 10 per cent. of the normal supply."

SEES VERMONT SHORTAGE. But Commissioner Gilbert said: "The supply in the northern Vermont area hardly hit by the flood is bound to be curtailed for some time."

Twelve carloads of milk arrive at the B. & M. in Springfield today. Five were from New York State, one from Maine, one from Philadelphia, two from New York city and three from New Hampshire.

and though it disproved an earlier report that the whole town was in flames, it showed the danger looming in the whole flood area.

The building burned was a three-story wooden structure adjoining the only river bridge left standing by the rush of water.

A bakery in this building was a roaring furnace and a gale was carrying flying embers for blocks when the fire was discovered.

Wary townsfolk, trying to get out after flood horses lasting four days, were aroused by couriers and news spread in the night against the flames.

At Springfield the machine were repaired only just in time to be ready to cope with a fire that broke out in a dwelling in the center of the village.

Relief Trains Rushing Food Supplies to Many Sufferers

The Connecticut River was reported crossing three-quarters of an inch an hour in its lower stretches late this afternoon and the work is believed to have passed into the water. While Vermonters in their dire straits are burning their last, a few trains are rushing food supplies to the hard hit Windmill Valley towns and airplanes are dropping between Barre, Concord, N. H., and the stricken area, carrying first aid supplies, food, and other necessities to make bread, salt, sugar and anti-typhoid vaccine.

Before morning, Northern Vermont may be in the grip of ice. To add to other hardships, the temperature is dropping.

Passengers Flee for Lives as Surging Flood Entraps Train

Another wireless dispatch to the Associated Press, received from the Barre Times by station 1 AKA at Lynn, disclosed that a Central Vermont train, the Ambassador, has been stalled at Roxbury since Thursday night.

The same message said that the village of Middlesex, Vt., is completely washed away, a man was drowned while sitting at the wheel of his automobile on the road between Waterbury and Montpelier and railroad tracks are hanging in the air for long distances.

From Ludlow came another story of a passenger train with 25 passengers cut off in front and bottled by the rush of flood waters at Mt. Holli, between Ludlow and Rutland.

The passengers fled for their lives and took refuge in farmhouses.

The fate of several trains is still in doubt.

Prevent collisions around the First South, Third Valley, and a stalled at the second. It is a terrible sight, both estimated at Fort Ethan Allen, in an effort to help duty in the Huntington area. This action was requested of Governor of Vermont.

Only one railroad system is now coming directly into Barre from New Haven road—Dr. Arthur Gilbert, Barre, commissioner of territories, pointed out, and he said that about the Blackstone and Connecticut rivers the further from additional rain, there was danger that roads would be cut off.

Children of the Flood in Dire Need of Clothes

A urgent appeal for children's warm clothing for flood victims in western Massachusetts and Vermont was issued by the Salvation Army in Boston today.

At Rutland, Vt., and North Adams the need is most pressing, while Barre, Vt., has also asked for several hundred children's garments.

According to Colonel Stephen Marshall, head of the Salvation Army in New Bedford, the food and shelter situation is well in hand. Colonel Marshall today purchased a large supply of mattresses and blankets for Rutland and these will be delivered before night.

The clothing should be delivered to the Salvation Army headquarters at No. 8 East Brookline street or donors should telephone Back Bay 7200. Arrangements have been made to forward clothing to the stricken sections daily.

A pressing need of clothing and districts of southern Vermont and blankets at Waterbury, Vt., and need for food at Bolton, where twenty-five persons lost their lives.

消息 of taking with the world. It was a burden and a task to sort and prepare the messages for dropping, but Lieutenant Cobb did it cheerfully while his plane was waiting up. He carried messages for the crew and passengers of a train marooned between Randolph and Northfield, the messages letters of relief.

Lieutenant Stephens, with Wolfe observed four for forty-four hours over the inundated country, also dropping packages in many towns and receiving O. K.'s from four, including Clayville and Bolton. They dropped 25 pounds of relief at Northern University, Northfield.

Half of Hartford Is Under Flood Water

Hartford, Ct., Nov. 7 (A.P.)—Raging out of the north, where it had spread death and destruction through Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts, the peak of the Connecticut River flood continued its course half way through this State today.

Windsor to the north, Middletown on the south, with Hartford in the center, marked the area where the flood spent its wrath before there were signs of relief from the pressure.

Hartford seemed to have borne the brunt of the river's rage in this State.

EAST HARTFORD DESOLATE. With the water level nearly thirty feet above normal, Hartford and East Hartford presented a desolate picture. Hundreds of abandoned houses dotted the flooded meadows of East Hartford.

All of Hartford's lower East Side, from the railroad tracks at the foot of State street west to Front street and south to the foot of Potter street, was a swimming sea.

where they sat in misery, their lives' treasures torn from them.

Savage, creaking out of their houses along Windsor street, added the great danger of typhoid infection and all city dumps were working to throw the waste into the river.

HEATING PLANT GONE. At Windsor 200 students of the Loomis Institute gathered about open fireplaces in their dormitories when the power plant was put out of commission.

At the Salmon River junction, where the river crossed the main east side of the river highway, supplies all traffic at East Hartford.

Middletown lay in darkness all night, while the swirling terror drove families to the top of form of their houses. Later several families had to be taken from their perch as the water level sought them out.

Along the entire path of the flood's progress in Connecticut, damage ran into millions. Small towns and mills were hard hit. In Hartford, early estimates placed the damage at well over $500,000.

MILK TRAINS MOVE TO HBB

days after the water receded because of the number of cattle killed and the under-nourished condition of many of the cows that escaped death in the 1-2 days.

Where the Hub was worth 10 percent of its normal milk supply yesterday, this percentage was 10 percent, and by tomorrow it was expected to be clipped to a minimum of 5 percent.

The greatest difficulty in controlling the milk distributors is the returning of cans and ewes to the farmers.

Of R. F. Burns of the C. F. Wilting Co. and Harvey Wood of H. H. Wood of the Hub, the latter said that order had been filled this week and that the Hub was now in a position to receive orders from other districts.

SCOUTS HUNT MILK. The Whiting Co. felt but a 10 percent shortage, while the Hub company filled its orders, according to some estimates less than 50 percent of the whole state's milk.

The Hub and the Whiting Co. are trading with Wood agreed to cut their orders materially.

A huge Thermos can containing 35,000 gallons of milk was sent from Pennsylvania today by the flood company and another is due every night. Every available flood man has been recruited from the ice cream and other departments and sent scouting for milk in truckloads.

3 TRAINS ON WAY. The Boston & Maine Railroad has three milk trains rolling toward Boston over a roundabout route made necessary by the floods. The trains are routed via Fernald, North Adams and Ayer.

The First National Stores, 40-apartment of obtaining any milk from whom delivery promised a few days of trucks in no service and get a supply in and near Bolton Falls.

Curry, Centre Company heads expressed themselves as optimistic that in larger supply would arrive from them from Newport and Unity, Me.

There is a possibility, however, according to State officials, that Boston and other localities in New England may later face a serious milk crisis if many milk cows perished in the floods. It is known and now more than 100,000 cows are available yet.

SUPPLY TO BE SHORT. Others, even, through neglect, however, might see the line, probably have become sick and diseased or will "go dry."

Field agents of the State Board of Health are collecting data on the milk situation and the material is being turned over to Dr. Brewster, the health board, and by Governor Fuller.

Massachusetts must expect some permanent shortage in its milk supply from Vermont because of the situation among dairy herds," Arthur Gilbert, State Commissioner of Agriculture, declared.

Commissioner Gilbert said his department has been a survey of Vermont herds. He described the Massachusetts situation as being relieved by shipments from New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

REDCROSS WILL HELP REBUILD. The rehabilitation will be financed largely by the National Treasury of the Red Cross and such voluntary contributions as come in. It was emphasized that no special appeal for funds will be made.

ASKS PROTECTION FROM RICHESTER REPEATERS

WANTS POLICE TO WATCH AT ELECTION

City Council Joseph McGrath of Rochester has sought police protection against "repeaters" coming into his ward tomorrow, charging in his complaint that "the Nichols administration is guilty of sharp practice and purposes to send in 'repeaters'."

Certain city officials are open in their declarations that plenty of money is being given and that they have the election officers with them. McGrath said that City Purchasing Agent Herbert S. Frost was giving out the cards of McGrath's opponent outside a Rochester church until stopped by the police, and he added that Mayor Nichols and his secretary, Edward Glendon, toured McGrath's district in the interests of opposition.

EXCITING CAMPAIGN.
After one of the most exciting "off year" campaigns in the history of the city, Boston voters will be asked tomorrow to go to the polls and elect twenty-two members to the City Council for a term of two years and three members to the school committee for a period of four years.

The city election tomorrow virtually marks the completion of the first half of the Nichols administration and the Mayor has taken no active part in the campaign. It is an open secret that he is opposed to the reelection of his opponents and a number of his school committee.

The Nichols regime has made headway with the present City Council. To be sure there are some things that have embarrassed the administration at times, but eventually the Mayor has had his way. These things, the administration "kitchen cabinet" intend to wipe out, if possible, tomorrow. The fight is centered on House of Ward 15, Mayor Nichols' home ward, Councilor McGrath, Councilor Michael J. Ward, Democrat, of Ward 9, Roxbury, and one or two others.

There is no secret that Mayor Nichols would like to see Councilor McGrath of Ward 15, Democrat, Guild of 15, Republican; Wilson of St. 15, Republican; and Ward 9, Democrat, defeated.

The Nichols administration has from time to time made overtures to Democratic ward leaders. In some Republican districts, like the home ward of the Mayor, a turnover of only 500 votes is needed. In Councilor Wilson's ward (13) 1,000 votes are not 500 votes to be changed.

In Councilor McGrath's ward and that of Councilor Ward a harder time will be experienced in the Republican machine. In the latter's case, Dan Curley, a Nichols Democrat, will try to replace Ward. McGrath's real opponent is Frank Sullivan, another Nichols Democrat.

WOMEN TO COME OUT.
The administration wants Councilor Ruby of Ward 14 returned. Her Candidate Joseph Beane, a Republican, who received the endorsement of the Good Government Association, is crowding him hard.

Councilor Timothy F. Donovan of East Boston is being pushed to the limit for his bid by William C. R. Healy, another Good Government Association endorser, and Thomas A. Niland, a former representative.

In Ward 9, Roxbury, the Old Tammany Club of the Curleys is out to defeat Councilor John B. Dwyer. Patrick F. Sullivan, a former representative, is the Tammany candidate.

The "school affairs" question will without doubt tend to bring out a large number of women voters thereby sending up the "off-year" figures.

SAVE HOMELESS IN NO. ADAMS

North Adams, Nov. 7 (A.P.)—Refugee work among the sixty or more families made homeless by the flood on Thursday night is going forward systematically.

All of the families are now housed and are being cared for by the emergency relief committee of the Red Cross.

More than 300 men were at work today clearing away debris from streets, collecting refuse and distributing relief that had been supplied.

A part of the city was getting water through the pipes and the rest of the families were being supplied by Red Scouts working with this Red Cross.

OHIO—Voters will decide whether mayors and justices of the peace are to be allowed $250 a month in fees from criminal cases. Proposal endorsed by Anti-Saloon League and opposed by Ohio auto mobile club.

DETROIT—Mayor John W. Smith, who says prohibition can not be rigidly enforced in any large city, is seeking re-election.

Woman Tells of Thrilling Auto Ride Through Flood
Marion, N. H., Nov. 7.—Report of a serious condition in the Vermont flood victims were brought back from St. Johnsbury and 2000 ft. by Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Pratt.

"It was a horrible nightmare," Mrs. Pratt said today. "Only my husband's knowledge of back roads and hill detours made it possible for us to escape from the stricken area in St. Johnsbury. We started our automobile through water-covered fields and flooded roads, leading the way for four other cars whose lives depended upon the ability of my husband to get us through."

"We left St. Johnsbury yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and arrived in Manchester late last night. The car had not in made even slow driving treacherous and almost impossible at times, for many of the roads had started to freeze."

18,698 Hub 'Drunk' Cases Are Tied During Year

Drunkness, despite prohibition, led the list of cases before the Municipal Court during the year from October 31, 1926, to October 31, 1927, a busy year for the court handled 47,552 cases, as against 41,496 in the previous year.

There were 18,698 cases of drunkenness before the court. Traffic law violations ran a hard second with a count of 9,270 cases. Then in order came other liquor cases, 1,239; violation of various city ordinances, 372; gaming and being present at games of chance, 1,567; narcotics, 333; vagrancy, 101; and robbery, 89.

FLIES TO AID OF KIN IN FLOOD
A son's devotion to his parents demonstrated today when H. K. Farrar, a Chicago business man, arrived here after an 800-mile trip by train and took off a short time later from the East Boston airport in the NC-51 for Montpelier, Vt., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Farrar, reside.

Feeling that his parents may be in want and that it was his duty to be with them, Farrar made the trip by train and plane at a good deal of expense in order to get to them as soon as possible. He purchased a year's stock, walk and other supplies which he took with him.

On his trip to Montpelier he was accompanied by Mrs. Bob O'Brien and a mechanic. They plan to land on a golf course outside of Montpelier, toward Barre, and walk into the city.

PROMINENT MEMBER OF RHODE ISLAND BAR DIES
Providence, Nov. 7 (A.P.)—Frank Tourtelot Easton, a leading member of the Rhode Island bar and former member of the General Assembly, died at his home here today after an illness of two weeks.

Mr. Easton was chancellor of the Episcopal diocese of Rhode Island and formerly editor of the staff of Governor Charles D. Kimball. He was 53 years old and a survivor by his wife and two children.

Embezzler Gets Two Years
Providence, Nov. 7 (A.P.)—Arthur Ayotte, 31, of Woonsocket, today was sentenced to prison for two years for embezzling $3,300 from the Forestate Manufacturing Company, North Attleboro, in "padding" payrolls.

COLD, SNOW IN FLOOD AREA
Colder weather tonight, adding to the suffering in the flood region, was the official forecast of the Weather Bureau at Boston today.

Temperatures tomorrow will, however, be generally fair, all traces of the storm that had a blanket of snow over the region, in some instances two feet in depth, having melted away.

One-half an inch of snow was the general report from Vermont and New Hampshire, but Pittsfield, in its Berkshire, had a depth of two inches.

Burlington, Vt., at the Winthrop Valley mouth, had a minimum temperature of 26. Boston's lowest was 34.

The men who had been rescued from the boat were taken to the city hospital today. The girls were taken to the city hospital today.

B. & A. FLOOD DAMAGE OVER
$1,000,000

The Boston & Albany Railroad flood damage will total between $1,000,000 and $1,200,000, a survey revealed today, while the Boston & Maine damage will also reach a high figure.

Seven bridge gans were put to work by the B. & A. today, with all carpenters being dispatched to Boston to build ramps for the repairs. The road has received the largest railroad construction company in the country to speed work and bridge repairs.

Together with the Canadian National Railway, the Boston & Albany and Boston & Maine railroads routed their trains through the city to get them through today.

The Boston & Albany received a gradual improvement with the removal of waters at Springfield, although the line between that city and Pittsfield is still out of commission.

The Boston & Maine railroad today pushed its trains to new sections of the flood area on roadsides reclaimed from the waters, a statement issued by the road said.

"It was able to reach the Connecticut River valley via the Berkshire branch and Claremont, it also was able to reach White River Junction, N. H., and thence by motor coach, north by rail as far as Plymouth, N. H., on the main line to White River, Vt., and North Conway, N. H., has been reestablished."

"The Boston & Maine has reported a resumption of the regular route for freight and passenger service, between the Hudson River, Boston and New York."

"The Minute Man is scheduled to leave the North Station at 3 p. m. tomorrow on her normal schedule for Cleveland and Chicago."

"It had been planned to send a special train to Montreal, leaving North Station at 7:25 p. m., via the Minute Man route and the Delaware & Hudson, but because of a break at House Falls which had been reported early this morning, it was decided to have the first locomotive to cross it delayed, the train was delayed."

"Officials expressed confidence this direct service will be in operation tomorrow. The derailment fixed up the line."

"It will require only a few rail cars to complete the line between Springfield and White River Junction, and the line is expected to be in service by Wednesday."

"Service by train from Springfield to Greenfield, via the detour over the Western branch of the New Haven from Northampton, was being supplied by motor coach service from Greenfield through Northampton, Vt., and Keene, N. H., to Lebanon, Westboro and White River Junction."

GOVERNOR'S AID WILL SURVEY FLOOD BY AIR

For the first time in the history of Massachusetts, a civilian official was ordered today to make an airplane survey of the flood area in Western Massachusetts. Lieutenant Governor Frank H. Allen, acting Governor in the absence of Governor Fuller, ordered the Governor's secretary, Herbert A. MacDonald, to start in a National Guard plane from the Boston airport this afternoon with Captain Edison, a pilot. Secretary MacDonald will make an extensive study of the devastated area, not returning until he has detailed report until late tomorrow or Wednesday.

SPRINGFIELD TO HANDLE CRISIS
WITHOUT AID

Springfield, Nov. 7.—Beginning result work for its 1,000 homeless Springfield announced today it can handle its situation without outside help and requested that any aid designated for this city be applied to some other area hit harder by the flood.

Mayor Follis C. Parker said all those driven from their homes are being cared for adequately, most of them having been taken into the homes of friends or relatives. The city is receiving for the others.

He announced he will call a special meeting of the City Council for Wednesday noon to appropriate funds for relief work.

The stage of the Connecticut River today had dropped four feet below flood level and the waters still were receding at a rapid rate.
The city is receiving for the others.

Most of the houses in the Springfield flood area will not be habitable for days as the cellars and some of the first floors are waterlogged or covered with the floating systems have been hit by debris.

No estimate of probable damage by the flood here has been made yet.

Legion Flood Committee
Seeks $10,000 Relief Fund

The American Legion's special flood relief committee, headed by Vice-Commander John J.
O'Connell of Amherst, today made a round trip to the flood area in Western Massachusetts.

Admiral D. H. Harvey, on his return from Secket, said:
"The members of the Pittsfield Post, A. 1, received 127 letters.
Every effort is being made by the State department headquarters to raise a fund of $10,000 for taking care of immediate needs of the legion officials at this time. The results are being received by Ralph N. Eastman."

The Pittsfield Post, it was revealed, will turn over the proceeds of its Armistice Day ball to the relief fund.

No Fear of Fuel Famine in Western Massachusetts

A reassuring statement on the fuel situation in the flooded section in Western Massachusetts was made today by Chairman Charles P.
Adams of the commission on the necessity of life.

"The fuel supply in the flooded cities and towns within the State shows no immediate shortage or shortage or an advance in price," the chairman declared.

"There may be inconvenience, but that any advance will be taken on that any advance will be taken on the special commission on the necessity of life show in the most plain of the disaster about how to anticipate and at the same time of the year there should be a fair supply in the line of the commission."

QUINCY GRANITE MEN
OFFER $2,500 RELIEF

A message of sympathy and an offer of financial aid up to $2,500 was telegraphed today by the Quincy Granite Manufacturers to the Granite Manufacturers' Association of Pittsfield, Vt.

The telegram was signed by William M. Adams, president of the Quincy organization, and A. E. Mc-Intosh, chairman of the relief committee.

PESTILENCE PEELS FLOOD VICTIMS

BATTLE FIRES IN RUINS OF WATER-SWEPT TOWNS

Battle still standing. Water was in the streets. Battle Bridge, three bridges declared, are under water at Stonefield, Northampton and Southfield, Vt. are entirely cut off. The Connecticut Valley between Springfield and Northampton is flooded.

The estimated flood loss in Vermont is $5,000,000. Efforts are being made to re-establish mail service in Vermont.

The problem of food and lack of fuel is causing more concern than the misery food supply in Montpelier, Vt.

Seventy-five families were rescued.

Highlights of the Flood District

BARRE, VT.—Eight University of Vermont students walk here from Burlington with sacks of yeast on their backs.

WATERBURY, VT.—One inmate of the State Prison was drowned while about 1,000 inmates of the State Prison were along their freedom when floods wrecked the asylum.

BURLINGTON, VT.—The Wisconsin valley, with a death list exceeding 100, still holds a grip of disaster not completely known.

BOSTON—Hub goes on shorter rations as supply lessens.

SPRINGFIELD, Vt.—Business flood refugees arrive in snow and cold weather.

NORTH ROYALTON, VT.—Bridge worker gives life in unsuccessful attempt to save elderly couple from drowning.

CONCORD, N. H.—Army airplanes bomb with typhoid serum for stricken cities.

SEATTLE, WASH.—Aged man warns of typhoid danger and prevents death and greater tragedy.

SAVING, CT.—Flood waters of Connecticut reach peak here at Hartford.

INCH OF SNOW FALLS IN NORTHWESTERN VERMONT

At Albany, Vt., Nov. 7 (A.P.)—More than one inch of snow fell in Northwestern Vermont during the night. Relief expeditions to the LaPlatte valley towns of Cambridge and Johnson and to the Montpelier valley towns of Fairlee, Newbury and Hartford are ready to leave here today.

Another telegram from Gabriel M. Stearns, vice-commander of Connecticut Post, American Legion, of Hartford, said: "Call me up for any service we may render."

A message from Carroll J. Skott, president of the Yankee Division Club, said: "Call me up for any service we may render."

At some places the railroad tracks are suspended five feet in the air with the roadbed washed away beneath them. Mud is six feet deep in one street which was eight feet under water during the height of the disaster.

Electric lighting has been restored there by a manufacturing plant which has managed to keep its power operating for this emergency service to the town. Gas lines were not cut and put in use.

Fire waterlines were repaired just in time for the department to make a call to a dwelling which caught fire to add to the enormity of the situation.

Main roads in all directions are impassable but small roads are in use.

Milton, Enosburg, Cambridge, Hartford, Newbury and other towns in Franklin County, Vermont, have been in urgent need for food and clothing.

One employee of the Central Vermont Railway is said to have recovered eight bodies from tangled wreckage. Other employees have done great service in rescue and relief work.

Bodies of hundreds of cattle are strewn over fields as the water recedes.

Many swine will be required to get the Central Vermont Railway in operation over its main line in the north, it was said at St. Albans, Vt., where officials of this railroad and the Canadian National Railway met into conference on plans for revivification.

Hundreds of acres of land around Albany, Hartford, Enosburg, Waterbury and Buxton are still flooded, but flood conditions generally in the central part of Massachusetts are improving. Temporary bridges have replaced those broken by the raging waters in many places.

Emergency crews are working day and night clearing away debris. Roads, though badly torn up, are said to be passable.

Damage to property, public and private, in the vicinity of Waterbury, is estimated at $200,000.

Milk dealers in Worcester sent trucks to the dairy region to try to get milk to prevent a famine in that city. Deliveries were curtailed so that children and hospitals could get an adequate supply.

Four hundred men are working to repair damaged Worcester streets.

The Boston & Albany route to the west in via Newbury, Or over the Norwich and Worcester division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, along the Shore Line to New York and thence up the Hudson River to Albany.

Four hundred pounds of yeast was taken to Northern Vermont by airplane from the Boston airport.

Firetrucks are on their way over the roads.

Gasoline in the stricken territory is being conserved for use by relief automobiles only and is being rationed.

Federal Troops on Duty in Vermont Flood Area

Washington, Nov. 7 (A.P.)—At the request of Governor Weeks of Vermont, the First Cavalry, 3d Cavalry, and a battalion of the 7th Field Artillery, both at Fort Belknap, Mont., have been assigned to duty at Burlington, Vt., to assist with flood relief work.

A report from Major-General Rogers, in command of army units engaged in flood relief work, informed the War Department today that order prevails.

Newfoundland in Grip of Devastating Storm

St. John's, N. F., Nov. 7 (A.P.)—Newfoundland today lies in the grip of the storm which swept over New England last week. The Maritime Provinces of Canada last week. The storm struck here yesterday. Today railroad and telephone lines were crippled and steamship service was interrupted. Much damage to seaward property resulted.

FULLER GETS MANY OFFERS OF AID

Offers of aid and assistance to stricken Massachusetts towns today poured in from all quarters.

Governor Al Smith of New York telegraphed: "The resources of the State of New York are at your command. We are prepared to send immediately doctors, nurses and other supplies."

Acting Premier J. P. Finner of Nova Scotia wrote: "Please advise us if we can aid you in any way."

From William A. Scully of Washington, came an offer to establish a relief fund.

A message from Carroll J. Skott, president of the Yankee Division Club, said: "Call me up for any service we may render."

Another telegram from Gabriel M. Stearns, vice-commander of Connecticut Post, American Legion, of Hartford, said: "Call me up for any service we may render."

BEFORE ANGRY WATERS STARTED TO RECEDE

Boats were needed to navigate Williams street, Northampton. This picture shows the street a veritable river with the houses half submerged. Never in the history of Northampton has there been such a deluge of water as this unexpected Fall freshet released. Today this water is beginning to recede and soon Northampton will begin to get dry.

John Peters of Northampton and a friend used this boat to rescue John's pet dog from the swirling flood water.

In the foreground are the rows of cots which the Red Cross hastily arranged in Memorial Hall in Northampton. While an army of volunteers battled for 36 hours to block leaking dikes, hundreds of refugees who fled into Northampton from districts that suffered heavy losses were cared for by Red Cross workers in Memorial Hall. The women and children are shown being fed.

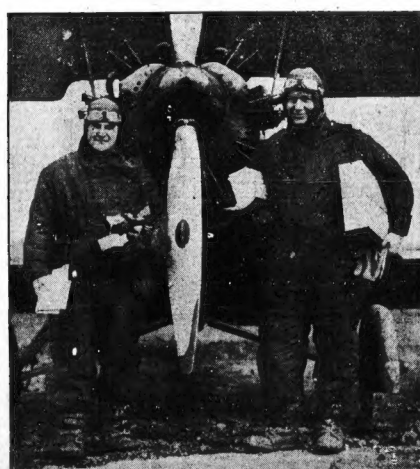

High and dry on top of a house in East Harford are these children, indicated by arrow, who were marooned as flood waters surrounded their home.

After an all night ride from Bellows Falls, Vt., part of the way over perilous roads, W. E. Bruce arrived in South Boston with one of the first truckloads of milk to come over the road from flood area.

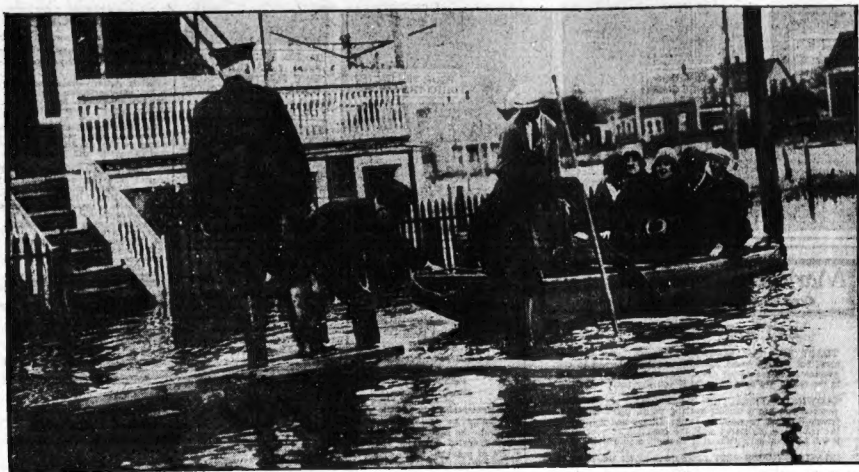

Edward Ashman, Catherine Mayo and Edna Ashman of South Boston, with their empty milk bottles, are only a few of those who were out this morning scouting for milk.

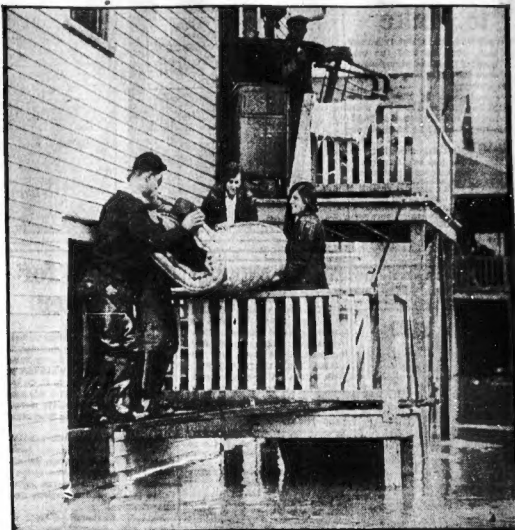

Robert L. O'Brien, pilot, and K. K. Farrar of Chicago leaving Boston airport for Montpelier, Vt., with mail and supplies. Mr. Farrar is taking yeast, sugar and salt to his parents, fearing they may be in want.

UNDAUNTED NEW ENGLAND CARRIES BRAVELY ON

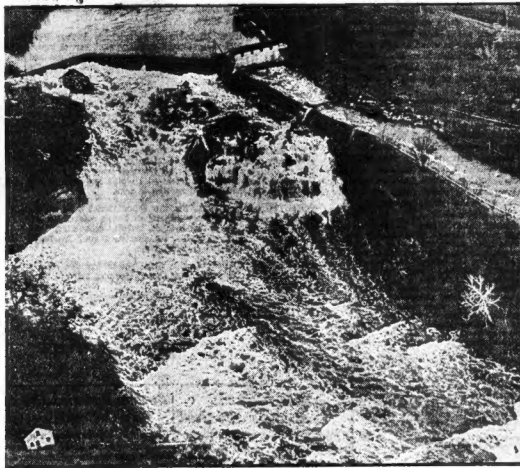

These Martin street residents of Lowell are just setting out for church. Many worshippers in the Merrimac Valley journeyed to and from church in boats, undaunted by the flood that swamped the streets of their city. Policemen aided them to get started. This novel method of attending worship proved also a source of amusement for the hundreds of men and women who boated it to church and back home to Sunday dinner afterwards.

These East Hartford residents are moving their furniture and mattresses to the second floor in North street. As long as they can continue they intend to live in their own home, even if in the attic.

It's children first when it comes to getting something to eat for the refugees in Memorial Hall at Northampton, and the expression on the youngsters' faces indicates that they do not expect to suffer from hunger.

This shows the dam between Canaan, Ct., and Lakeville overflowing as the raging waters of the flood sweep down on it. The railroad, as will be noted, parallels the river bed. The tracks are not yet under water.

Though floods may come the milk has to be delivered and this East Hartford milkman is on the job. As long as there's milk to be had this chap will see that it's delivered to his customers.

When the floods hit Westminster, Vt., five truckmen were marooned at this house, while their truck was submerged. The arrow shows the truckmen on the verandah roof. Westminster is south of Bellows Falls. The truckmen were marooned until the flood waters receded. As can be seen in the picture the flood was many feet deep in this picturesque Vermont village. The truckmen just had time to reach this place of refuge as the wild mountain waters surged in and trapped them. They were marooned here for more than three days before they were able to get out as the water began to recede.

MARTHA LEE TELLS OF PINEAPPLE CAKE

Very Easy to Make

Do you remember about two years back, when we held the cake contest? And the pineapple upside down cake was among the prize winners?

We made one of these in the Martha Lee Kitchen a day last week, and because it disappeared so rapidly we turned around and made another pronto.

There's something peculiarly intriguing about one of these cakes. Somehow they look very professional and different of achievement, when as they are really simply made.

These upside down cakes are really intended to be eaten as a dessert, rather than just as cake, pure and simple. At Christmas time, they make very acceptable gifts. The cake is baked in a decorated round tin box that may be used afterwards as a serving or both.

When you lift the lace paper covering and disclose the pine of pineapple, decorated with nuts and candied cherries, you instinctively

Recipe for Batter

HERE is a recipe for a batter which, with easy variations will make three different and delicious desserts.

Variety batter—One-quarter cup butter, one-quarter cup sugar, one egg, two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, three-quarters cup milk.

Cream butter and add sugar, then cream eggs. Sift together flour and baking powder and add to egg mixture alternately with milk. Mix well.

Vary as follows:

1. For cottage pudding cake in greased cake pan in hot oven at 350 degrees F. thirty minutes.
2. For Dutch apple cake, lay sliced apples in rows on top, sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) thirty to forty minutes.
3. For steamed pudding, add one-half cup raisins or dates to cake and steam in (individual) molds three-quarters hour.

Taking Wilt Out of Vegetables

TO freshen wilted vegetables, soak them in water to which vinegar has been added. This restores them quickly and destroys little bugs still on them. Don't throw away wilted lettuce. Wash it in cold water and place over night in crock or pan with tight lid. The lettuce will be more crisp and tender.

Salads for Winter

DEAR MARTHA: It's easy enough to toss a salad together in the summer, but winter salads in my family have a beautiful sameness. What can you suggest? writes Mrs. S. F. G. from Framingham. And since this seems to be a general problem, perhaps you'll find these winter salad recipes helpful, too, of the tomato relish.

Stirring Beans and Relish Salad—Two cups string beans, freshly cooked or canned, French dressing, lettuce leaves, six narrow strips pimiento, three tablespoons tomato relish (green), one tablespoon finely minced onion.

Method: Marinade or mix the beans with one-third cup French dressing, and let stand two hours. Arrange marinated beans on lettuce, place strips of pimiento crosswise and serve with French dressing to which the green tomato relish and minced onion have been added. Any chopped sweet pickle may be used in place of the tomato relish.

Tuna Fish or Salmon Salad—One cup tuna fish or salmon, one cup celery, one cup cabbage, six chopped stuffed olives, one-half cup mayonnaise dressing, paprika, lettuce.

Method: Mix shredded fish with sliced celery, chopped cabbage and chopped stuffed olives. Combine with mayonnaise dressing. Pile on lettuce, sprinkle with paprika and serve. Serves six.

Carrot and Celery Salad—Two cups ground carrots, two tablespoons lemon juice, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-quarter cup chopped nuts, one cup chopped celery, mayonnaise dressing, lettuce, green pepper or parsley for garnishing.

Method: Add lemon juice and salt to carrots. When thoroughly mixed add nuts and celery and combine with one-half cup mayonnaise dressing. Pile on lettuce, garnish with strips of green pepper or parsley and serve. Serves six.

Apple and Celery Salad—One and one-half cups chopped apples, one and one-half cups chopped celery, mayonnaise dressing, lettuce, pimiento to cut in fancy shapes. Mix apples, celery and mayonnaise dressing together and pile on lettuce. Garnish with pimiento. Serves six.

GLOWING SATISFACTION is yours, and a glowing store when you use a wonder-working polish that's truly different. No dirt, no odor, no smoke. Clean and polishes at the same time. No matter what the condition of your stove, it will be clean and shining after an application of this polish.

GRANDMOTHER'S BEST remedy was flower tea, prepared from red clover flowers. An old remedy, at efficient today as ever, for eradicating blood diseases, rheumatism, swellings or stiff joints, neuritis, etc. Made from loose flowers. Prepare it yourself at home, 25c. (for mailing).

NEARLY EVERYTHING that can be soiled, can be cleaned with a magic fluid that is rapid, thorough, easy to use and sure to clean. In the home, in the office, for the car—it is unlimited. Antiseptic, too, and harmless to the hands. 35c for good sized bottle.

HAVE YOU EVER tasted real Philadelphia Pepper Pot? It is a soup which even French culinary skill cannot equal. If made by a certain famous house I know. Has a charm and flavor all its own. Serve it once, and you will repeat the treat often.

TEMPTINGLY TASTY are foods seasoned with the proper ketchup. The true, delicate tomato flavor makes meat, fish, oysters, etc., more appetizing, hence more digestible. Makes an excellent sauce for the oyster cocktail. Shall I tell you more?

GOT A COUGH? Get rid of it now with an emulsion that effectively heals, soothes and cleanses the inflamed parts. Not an ordinary cough medicine, but well known to the medical profession for years. Pleasant to take and one of the few cough medicines children like to take.

SOMETHING SPECIAL for the school lunch box or the Sunday night feed. A certain brand of boned chicken or turkey makes delicious sandwiches, salads, croquettes, individual pies, escalloped dishes, or what have you? No bones—no cooking—ready to serve and eat.

THAT'S ALL THERE is this. For information on any and all of the above articles, send stamped self-addressed envelope to:

Faithfully yours,
Martha Lee

Menu That May Help

HERE is a reasonable menu:

Meat Loaf
French Fried Potatoes
Creamed Cabbage
Peas and Salad
Peach Tapioca

Cook the cabbage in as little water as possible to avoid draining off needlessly the rich mineral salts.

For the salad, boil, skin and chop a pint of peanuts. There should be one-half a cup. Add a cup of celery, washed, minced and dried, chilled in ice water and dried between towels. Marinate the mixture with French dressing. Wash and divide green peppers, removing seeds and membranes. Arrange peppers on nests of lettuce and fill with oyster and peanut mixture. Garnish with slices of radish.

Pineapple Shortcakes

Are Quickly Prepared

Pineapple shortcakes are well liked and quickly made with crushed pineapple. Either a biscuit dough or a plain cake baked in layers will serve. Spread crushed pineapple thickly between the layers and if you want a more elaborate dessert, top with whipped cream.

Here's a Recipe for Open Crab Sandwich

Mix crab meat with a thick white sauce and spread on slices of cream bread. Spread over this mayonnaise, and grated cheese on top. Heat through in oven until cheese is a little melted and brown. Serve with tea.

BAKING used to be done in cellars—dark and dankish. Even the street bakeries mixed and baked a lot of the traffic dust that drifted in.

Along came Sunshine Bakers. The foundations of their business were established just under the roof. Ovens were set up in the top floors of their tall bakeries. Sunlight became a common ingredient in every one of the hundreds of Sunshine products. Sunshine Bakers, among the first, brought an end to dungeon baking.

These are the things we try to tell you with our name "Sunshine". These are the things we try to tell you with our advertising phrase "Thousand Window Baking". These are the things that make it right while to say Sunshine to your grocer.

Ham Steak Cooked in Ginger Ale Good

Place a one-inch slice of ham in a large casserole. Cover with a dressing made by mixing one cup bread crumbs with one teaspoon parsley and one and one-fourth cup butter. Dot with 8 cloves. If you wish, one-fourth of a green pepper may be chopped and added to the dressing. Pour a bottle of ginger ale in the bottom of the casserole. Cover the casserole and bake in a 375 degrees F. oven for 15 minutes. Then remove the cover, increase the temperature to 450 degrees F. and brown the dressing. Serve in the casserole on a large platter with ginger ale.

Banana Bavarian Cream Is a Delicious Dessert

Beat one cup of cream very light and set aside to chill. Soften one envelope of minute gelatine in one-fourth a cup of cold water. Peel, scrape and press enough bananas through a ricer or sieve, to fill a cup (three to four bananas). Soak the pulp in a double boiler, add half a cup of sugar, the juice of half a lemon and the softened gelatine, and stir until the gelatine and sugar are dissolved. Turn into a round bowl-shaped dish. Set the dish in ice water, and stir until the mixture begins to set, then fold in the cream. Turn into a dish lined with sponge cake or lady fingers.

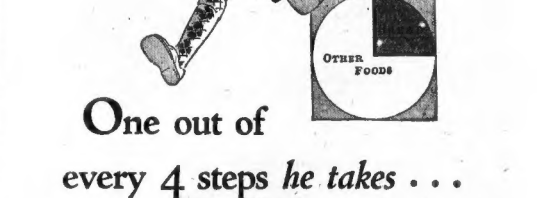

Here's a "company" dessert—that's easy to make

CAMPFIRE Marshmallow Mousse—a dessert as wholesome as it is attractive. If your family are tired of every-day desserts, serve them a "Company" one.

Best 1 cup cream and 1/2 cup sugar. Add 1/2 cup vanilla, a little salt, 1/2 cup Campfire marshmallows, 1/2 cup Campfire Marshmallow Mousse. Beat 1 cup cream and 1/2 cup sugar. Add 1/2 cup vanilla, a little salt, 1/2 cup Campfire marshmallows, 1/2 cup Campfire Marshmallow Mousse. Beat 1 cup cream and 1/2 cup sugar. Miss Rosamond Lehmann Departs for England on Liner Mauretania From New York Wednesday

CELEBRITIES ARRIVE AND CELEBRITIES DEPART WITH A frequency quite sufficient to overshadow the local social scene with infinite variety. Latest to bid good admirers farewell is the noted English author, Miss Rosamond Lehmann, who has flitted in a brilliant orbit here, and now departs for England. She leaves much sooner than originally anticipated, being called home because certain members of her family there are indisposed.

MISS LEHMANN LEAVES TOWN TOMORROW, AND ON WEDNESDAY starts for home via the Mauretania, the first liner available. She has been house guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. Nelson Hamlin for some weeks, except for short intervals in New York, and important people have entertained her. In fact, it was with Mrs. Hamlin that Miss Lehmann arrived in September. She and Mrs. Hamlin came together from England at the end of the latter's summer journey abroad.

MISS LILLIAS MORIARTY
Boston girl, is on the debutante program for the week. Mrs. Archibald Mains gives a luncheon for her at the Ritz-Carlton Friday.

Coaches and horses and society and riders from far countries make a glamorous picture in the "Gardens" room here. Certainly Samuel J. Shaw, of Brookline is not one to remain absent from such a spectacle. Mr. Shaw is already en route to New York and for the duration of the Show will be domiciled at the Waldorf.

MR. SHAW'S VERY PARTICULAR INTEREST IS IN THE FINE coaches, nearly a dozen in all, that bring back to the Horse Show some of the atmosphere of yesterday, together with some of its swank and formality. Mr. Shaw owns a very handsome coach himself, a gorgeous affair of black and red and yellow, that sees the light of day herabouts, now and again, principally when the Country Club races are on. A secondary interest of Mr. Shaw's in the Show, is the appearance of "Boston Pippin" in the ring.

EXPERT JUDGE AND HORSE lover that he is, Mr. Shaw feels a more or less proprietary interest in "Pippin" since he, as judge at a certain show, awarded her highest honors in her class; a decision that has since been fortified by her many similar wins in many shows. "Pippin" belongs to Mrs. Paul Moore, and at Madison Square were brilliant competition for the biggest prize in the country.

WITH MRS. FISKE WARREN, Mrs. Robert Lincoln O'Brien and Miss Eleanor Snelling aiding and abetting, the Theatrical Benefit for Disabled Veterans in the pit is going to have a jolly birthday celebration this season. It has reached its seventh year this benefit that annually is staged for the veterans. Share of the share are more than generous with their services at the benefit.

UNDER MRS. O'BRIEN'S AS TUTE direction the fund is expended and the existence of the disabled veterans in hospitals immeasurably gladdened. For many a year has she devoted herself to this phase of veteran welfare. Miss Snelling, likewise, and there is always a devoted band of workers at the benefit.

Yale and Princeton
Two Great Teams
Battle of Lines

By NICK FLATTERY

TIGER AND BULLDOG WILL FURNISH REAL SCRAP

THERE will be a real football game at New Haven this week. When Yale and Princeton meet, the air is always full of detonating crashes and the groans of the wounded. No two teams in the length and breadth of the land bring more spirit to one football game than these same Yale and Princeton. The annual tilt is always a great football game, and this year it has all the earmarks of a real war.

Yale, with Bruce Caldwell, among the world's best backs, and a line that works like seven supercharged steam rollers, has one of its greatest teams. The Blue was beaten by Georgia in the opening game, but since that upset has been a wonderful gridiron machine.

Princeton has been rolling along like a snowball going down hill, gaining speed and spreading increased destruction with each week. The Tigers have the chronic alert, balling, never-say-die team. They polished off Cornell and Ohio State in impressive fashion. They will have no fears of Yale's strength or record.

The Tigers never raise great havoc or excite the world in their early games. They play a carefully graded schedule and they always come down to the big test with everything set to give the enemy a mean afternoon.

Yale's big line has been heralded as the best forward wall of a decade. The experts who have watched the Tigers claim that the Roper shock troops are very, very good. The battle of two great lines to give great backs a chance to get rolling, invariably runs fine football.

Princeton has been blocking punts this year, scored two touchdowns against Ohio State by so doing. Caldwell's kicks do not get away too quickly. Cole of Dartmouth tossed himself in front of a pair in the Green disaster.

Lewis and Moser, two husky, fast ends, have the habit of being somewhere in the vicinity of the ball about the time it leaves the kicker's toe.

Caldwell has not been called to face any steady collection of tough opposition even in Yale's hard games. He will have plenty Saturday, which will give the world a chance to see how great he is really.

The battle of ends—for Yale has a wonder pair in Scott and Fishwick—will be a side line worth taking the trip for all by itself.

A SPORT ARENA AT THE NORTH STATION SHOULD MAKE GREAT TRAINING QUARTERS.

Tex Rickard is a great promoter, but he'll be a good promoter himself into a couple of H-Y tickets.

THIS LOOKS LIKE YEAR'S BIG GRID WEEK

THIS will be one of the year's greatest football weeks. The Yale-Princeton game will have the big spotlight, but there are others that will keep plenty of the boys and girls cheering and thrilled.

The rivalry at Madison between Harvard and Brown, will be a football game and the Crimson will have to show more than it produced at Penn to win the final prep for the Yale duel.

Brown was feared to be everything but the Stars' brand of side stepping and passing. The Green account was tossed back on its work on many an occasion. The Harvard backs will find very few invaders in the Brown line, very few.

And those Brown boys, especially Randall, Egan and Ed Edwards, carrying the pickup with plenty of ambition and tenacity. Harvard will stage a counterattack after the Penn licking, but Brown would also seem to be on the way, after a torrid journey along the October trail.

Boston College College has been a team of the year and has the joint with Georgetown at the Wigan will not put many spectators to sleep through boredom. The Washington athletes are a high school outfit, but the Redskins should be enough to put on a real display of their innate ability.

NOTRE DAME position in the football world is best reflected by a universal acclaim awarded Minnesota for edging out a tie with the remarkable Irish. And Minnesota wouldn't be a pushover for any 4th America team you might imagine. Rockne has the football IT, and some thing more, as well.

TIGERS OPEN WITH REDS

"Sixty minutes of professional hockey for 50 cents," the new slogan adopted by the Boston Tigers in the Canadian American League games here, will have its first test next Saturday night at the arena when it faces the Boston Bruins.

Manager Charles C. Chase booked Saturday night at the arena, has announced that 2000 seats are available at 50 cents and 1500 seats at 75 cents and 2000 seats for $1.

To make the local professional opening Saturday night a marked success President Chase of Chase booked Saturday night at the arena, has announced that 2000 seats are available at 50 cents and 1500 seats at 75 cents and 2000 seats for $1.

A flock of new players wearing orange and black striped jerseys, with a huge tiger head, will be introduced to the Boston hockey public.

Harvard Five Reports Tonight

Harvard basketball work will get under way tonight in the first meeting and practice of the season in the Hemenway gymnasium.

Coach E. W. Wachtler, who has been basketball manager at the university since 1921, will outline the year's work to the candidates and the men on conditioning post.

Coach J. N. Hinkle, 25, is the older brother from last year's team. He returned this year to Harvard, a member in 1925 and 1926. He is a letter man of the Harvard men's basketball team two years ago.

Donahue and Suggs See Victory in Bout Tonight

By ANNIE MCNALLY

It makes the fight Suggs tonight, I am in the best condition of my career and confident that I shall knock the men out.

I plan to set a terrific pace from the bell in the first round in an effort to put me in the lead of the fight. I am a year younger than Suggs, and I am hitting him so fast that he will not be able to get a feel of me.

I shall knock the men out, I am in the best condition of my career and confident that I shall knock the men out.

I shall knock the men out, I am in the best condition of my career and confident that I shall knock the men out.

G. AMERICAN SPORTS

Mr. Boston
Jack Conway

"TILL as it isn't," demanded Mr. Boston as he stepped in out of the breeze today. "The headlines say Earl Sands, master rider, has had his license as a jockey revoked by the Maryland Racing Association. This ruling, if upheld, must be recognized at every track in North America.

As understood the facts, Sands, as big a man at the race tracks as

Bob Allen is in baseball or Jack Dempsey in boxing, has been set down

WITHOUT A HEARING—by the testimony of Patrol Judge Willie Doyle

The word of one man is allowed to pull America's leading jockey from his position.

"Sands was riding Basso in the historic Pimlico Futurity, Ralph Conrad the favorite, had Chick Lang as jockey. Sands, who always rode in the saddle, was in the saddle as the horse came thundering down the track. He had the reins in his hand, and he was in the saddle.

"It was out from under the rail," Lang tried to drive his mount, and Lang reached over and grabbed me. He tore the buttons from my shirt.

"That, of course, forced Basso over on to the track and knocked him out of the saddle. Lang then was compelled to pull up as his mount was put out of the saddle. That exactly how it happened and it was all Lang's fault.

"Lang, who rode Chida, the winner, took up Sands' story. He was long tried to squeeze through a tight opening and brought all the reins on himself, and he was in the saddle. He was in the saddle.

"Lang's story that Sands whirled over from the centre of the track to go on the pile appears unfounded.

"The Maryland stewards have been openly hostile to everything that had any New York color about it. They have believed that New York has been getting too much control in the racing game. It is charged that the attempt to discredit Sands is part of the drive of the stewards to stop further progress of New York racing in the future.

"The burning of Sands would help the racing game. Like Babe Ruth, he has never wanted to win. I know of thousands of people who have been in the race for their money. They want to win and they will do it. They will do it for their money. They want to win and they will

DEMPSSE BUYS INTO GARDEN

Jack Strings Along With Rickard and Acquires $150,000 of Stock

New York, Nov. 7.—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, has purchased approximately 1000 shares of Madison Square Garden stock. Tex Rickard officially announced. The promoter estimated the purchase price at $150,000.

According to Rickard of the 1,100 Garden stockholders at present only four or five hold larger blocks than Dempsey. When he had as much as 1000 shares, he was the largest holder. He is now the second largest holder. He is now the second largest holder. He is now the second largest holder.

Men Who Keep Clean Prefer Energine

"Give me something that does the work! Does it quick! And does it well!" That's the command of every successful American. And that's why successful men who work hard and fast, and yet keep clean, prefer Energine.

It's bat-hand, spots or tan shoes. And Energine LEAVES NO ODOR. Shopping around isn't necessary to buy Energine. The nearest drug store has it.

A soft cloth saturated! A gentle rub or two! And the ugly spot vanishes from coat collar, vest, trousers, neckties, hat-band, spots or tan shoes. And Energine LEAVES NO ODOR. Shopping around isn't necessary to buy Energine. The nearest drug store has it.

INTERNATIONAL MATCH CORPORATION
Twenty-Year 5% Sinking Fund Gold Debentures

Dated November 1, 1927

Due November 1, 1947

Principal and interest payable at office of Lee Higginson & Co., in New York, Boston and Chicago. Callable on 10 days' notice, at a whole or any time or in part on any interest date, at 101 and interest during the first 5 years, at 102 and interest during the next 5 years, at 103 and interest during the next 5 years, and at 104 and interest during the last 5 years. Interest payable without deduction for Federal Income Tax up to 37%. Principal and interest payable in full at maturity.

Cumulative sinking fund sufficient to retire at least 35% of entire issue by maturity.

Capitalization (upon completion of present financing)

From his letter, Ivar Kreuger, Esq., President, further summarizes as follows:

BUSINESS: International Match Corporation, incorporated in Delaware, controls companies owning 90 match manufacturing plants in various European and other countries, outside of Sweden. It is in turn controlled by Swedish Match Company through ownership of a majority of its common stock. These two companies and subsidiaries have plants in 35 different countries, and probably reach more consumers than any other group of manufacturing companies in the world.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Proceeds of these Debentures will be used by International Match Corporation to acquire from Swedish Match Company $50,000,000 of a total issue of $75,000,000 Government of the French Republic Forty-Year 5% Gold Bonds, which Swedish Match Company is purchasing from the French Government.

It is understood that the French Government will in turn apply the proceeds of the sale of the $75,000,000 Forty-Year 5% Gold Bonds toward the retirement of its entire outstanding issue of Twenty-Year External Loan 8% Sinking Fund Bonds.

The Administration of the French State Match Monopoly and Swedish Match Company have entered into a long term arrangement providing for cooperation in the match industry. International Match Corporation will participate equally with Swedish Match Company in the benefits and obligations under this arrangement.

ASSETS: Consolidated net assets of International Match Corporation and constituent companies as of December 31, 1926, including results of this financing, were $162,234,000, or over 325% of this issue, which constitutes the Corporation's only funded debt. Current assets, including, at par, the $50,000,000 French Government Bonds to be acquired with proceeds of this financing, were $70,170,306, or more than 8 times current liabilities of $8,227,701.

EARNINGS: Consolidated net earnings of International Match Corporation and constituent companies for the year ended December 31, 1926, after depreciation but before Federal Income Taxes, were $15,396,272, or more than 6 times interest requirement on this issue. For the first 3 months of 1927, such net earnings were at the annual rate of $16,600,000. If to this is added the $2,500,000 annual income from the French Government Bonds to be acquired with proceeds of this financing, such net earnings would be at the annual rate of more than 7 1/2 times the requirement.

Application will be made to list these Debentures on the New York Stock Exchange

Ions laughed at him, children especially, as he went about with bright pink nose, baggy clothes, always serious.
"He lies on a slab in the new York morgue today. Nobody claimed his body, after he'd been there for 10 days. A miserable, furnished room, but a day of his glory were spread before him on the bed, as he wanted to blow his brains out."

There are all World leaders who you, Wren, and you weep alone. Elie Wiesel. Without knowing her well known from the morning after, her first gas when she was seven.
In the train, going to the party.

FLOOD NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC:

As a result of the flood in the Berkshire Hills, near Becket, Mass., the main line of the Boston & Albany R. R. is completely destroyed for three and a half miles. Three bridges over the Westfield River have been carried away. It will be some time before even a single track can be rebuilt and opened for service.

Nevertheless the railroad will continue to run all of its through trains from Boston to and from the West. Detours over other railroad lines will be necessary, and the public is advised that, as the result of this condition, all Western trains will be several hours late in arriving at destination.

BOSTON & ALBANY R.R.

she saw a woman weeping. Her dead husband was in the bare car. Mr. Wiesel said: "I thought I could never smile again, after crying with that poor woman. But I went to the party and danced all night. I wrote the poem when I woke up in the morning, ashamed to think how easily I had forgotten."

From Marianne, now on his end, learned also that the world forgets easily.

The Rev. G. A. S. Kennedy, British, says "British singing (rhythms and passages in India has sent the population from 100 to 300 million. New Hindus want to get into Africa, where there is no famine."

European states in South Africa are attending to that. A base of plague in families in Asia has increased population there also. And they are anxious to get into the United States. That also will be attended to.

Lord Esher says there were only 100,000,000 people on earth in 1800. Today there are about 1,000,000,000. The increase is a little more than one per cent. a year, will make the population of the earth in 1929 more than 12,457,000,000.

That need not worry you, Henry George reminds "not that if a puppy dog's tail kept on growing until it grew as big as a pup, such old dog would have a tail as long as his teeth."

To begin with, Texas could feed the 1,000,000,000 people now on earth, under intensive cultivation. In the second place, flying machines will enable people to live, with plenty of room for food, in the mountains, hills, and mountains with no inhabitants today.

And in the third place, when people become slightly civilized they will have fewer children. Preference leaves nothing important to change.

Green, disturbed by assorted Bolivians, Communism, Radicalism and Heaven knows what, requests our government to tell the Greek government how to "control the Reds."

Give me simple method, named ENTHUSIASM.

Give men work with good wages and they are content. That is their nature. That is their nature. That is their nature. That is their nature. That is their nature.

Twenty-thousand individuals in Britain, including many women, are growing coffee and fruit in their backyards. The Dutch orange has not been duplicated or any means price offered for a "Dutch orchard." But a single orchard sells for as much as $25,000. One collection sold for $25,000.

Orchard raising is intricate, interesting work, with its cultivation of strange hybrids and trading in seedlings and orchard apes. Young women that would like a beautiful occupation producing something that can be put in the savings bank might like to try agriculture department at Washington for advice.

SHOE TRADE ACTIVITY INCREASES EARNINGS
New York, Nov. 7 (A.P.)—Earnings of Endicott Johnson Corporation, the largest shoe manufacturer in the United States, for the third quarter ended Oct. 31, 1927, were $1,000,000, or 10% more than for the same quarter last year.

Endicott Johnson Corporation, which has a factory in New York City, reported that its sales for the third quarter were $1,000,000, or 10% more than for the same quarter last year.

Freezing Weather Adds Peril to Plight of Flood Victims

Severe and anti-thaw are still going on in Vermont and Western Massachusetts and the battle against disease is going on, together with the fight to relieve cold and hunger.

Inspection was threatened by many Vermont flood survivors as they would be sent to anti-thaw, inspection, and little trouble in new being experienced in this regard.

Clothing, blankets and overcoats are being distributed under the direction of army officers, with snow being piled on the ground and the temperature below the freezing point at night.

PART OF 1 MEAL ALL 46 HAD IN 36 HOURS

By FRANCES L. BAUD
Manor for 34 hours with only a part of one meal retained among 46 persons, huddled for warmth in one room on the second floor of the Montpelier Tavern while flood waters licked the lobby ceiling below them, George S. Parker, a traveling salesman, today reached Boston with a grim story of rescue and heroic endurance of a business trip for the Connecticut Tobacco Company to that city last Thursday.

"The water began rising above the street level at 8 o'clock Tuesday after rain had been falling since Monday night," he said. "I took refuge in the upper story in the lobby before 8, when four feet of water had put out a 'L' shape fire. A pan of fried chicken, chicken near dead, three boxes of crackers and a lot of soup were rescued but we saw a lot of food floating out of the window and had to jump down the stairs on the lobby floor."

"The food was immediately rationed between the 34 guests and employees, each of whom got a bowl of soup and a small portion of chicken. The night passed in a very quiet manner. We were rescued by a fireman who came in with a ladder and a bucket of water. We were rescued by a fireman who came in with a ladder and a bucket of water."

BOSTON, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1927

SALLIES SEEK CLOTHING FOR FLOOD VICTIMS

While half a dozen Salvation Army trucks and automobiles were collecting clothing throughout Greater Boston today for the flood victims in Vermont and western Massachusetts, Colonel Stephen Marshall announced that thousands more were garments of all kinds are being made.

The Army has already turned a number of clothing over to the Red Cross near Ludlow, Vt., while last night the Army report that clothing is needed in every town between Ludlow and Middlebury. Another Army truck will leave today with clothing for the stricken.

Clothing are also being sent to North Adams and other points in western Massachusetts. Persons desiring to give clothing for the relief work should send them to Salvation Army headquarters at No. 5 East Brookline street, Boston, when possible, as the work of collection is proving a difficult problem.

The Salvation Army has been voted a majority institution by the citizens of Rumford, Me. The doughnut helped save the town when the angry waters of the Androscoggin River threatened to sweep them away.

While every man and boy in the town labored for a day and a night filling sandbags and placing them on the weakened river levee, three Salvation Army ladies, with a fold kitchen pooled hundreds of doughnuts and made a line of children which they served the workers throughout the night. The ladies who cooked and served the doughnuts and coffee are Captain Mrs. Bartlett, Lieutenant Alice McVeigh and Ensign Elsie L. Merry, the latter of Boston.

So we want to ask you: Will you send us a few dollars? We are in need of money for the relief work.

SNOW FORECAST TO ADD MISERY IN FLOOD ZONE

A storm area, stretching early to day from Oklahoma to the Ohio valley, is predicted by the Boston Weather Bureau to precipitate another deluge over the flood-devastated region of northern New England.

Locally, the same disturbance will blanket Greater Boston with a mix of rain and snow, but will also raise the mercury slightly over 10 degrees at 20 above, retained here last night to make it the coldest of the season thus far.

From the meagre reports at the Federal building bureau, it was apparent. Winter temperatures have firmly attached themselves through New Hampshire and Vermont.

6.4 INCHES OF RAIN. Burlington recorded a minimum in the night of 70 degrees above, while Concord, N. H., was nipped by a blinding frost in a temperature of 20 degrees.

The official report of the rain fall which deluged New England arrived today at the office of Meteorologist George S. Toward.

The weather station at Portsmouth checked off a depth of 3.24 inches over Nov. 3 and 4, surpassing the record of 2.48 inches recorded Oct. 4 and 5, 1926.

SNOW FOR HILL. The Civil Service laboratory in Worcester registered a rainfall of 4.69 inches over Nov. 3 and 4, exceeding the previous record of 4.60 inches.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Increasing clouds, followed by rain or snow this tonight and Wednesday, slightly warmer, tonight; heavy variable wind, becoming straight, clearing Wednesday.

1000 HARTFORD HOMES FLOODED

Hartford, Ct., Nov. 8.—From its peak of 29 feet above sea level water, reached at midnight, breaking all records since the 1911 flood of 1911, the Connecticut river only receded, about an inch an hour.

In that Hartford, 200 homeless persons are being cared for by the RED CROSS WHICH HAS ESTABLISHED HEADQUARTERS IN THE MANSION FIRE DISTRICT OFFICE BUILDING. 3700 HUNDRED HARTFORD BUILDINGS, CHIEFLY RESIDENTIAL, OCCUPIED BY 1,000 FAMILIES ARE ISOLATED ABOVE THE FIRST FLOOR LEVEL.

As the water dropped, estimates of property damage rose. Warehouse merchants and wholesalers surveyed goods in cellars and storerooms or learned of goods in transit retreating in marooned freight cars, they submitted damage figures that sent the two million dollar mark.

SUES JUDGE IN $105,000 FIR LOSS OF WIFE'S LOVE

Providence, R. I., Nov. 8 (A.P.).—John French, judge of the Somerset County Court, has been named defendant by Lieutenant Walter Ward Brown, U. S. M., valued, in a suit for $105,000 filed in Circuit Court and alleging abduction of the actress, Mrs. Elsie Broughan.

It is charged that between January, 1924, and May, 1926, French called frequently upon Mrs. Broughan at her home in White House wrote her endearing letters, presented many gifts and took her on numerous motor trips.

MAN'S ARM JERKED OUT OF SOCKET BY HOISTER

Providence, R. I., Nov. 8 (A.P.).—A hoisting machine at the site of the new building at the corner of Elm and Washington streets, was hoisted out of its socket and narrowly escaped crushing all within a few seconds here today. A hoister, a boat hand, was operating a hoisting machine on the steamboat when his arm caught in the machinery.

His arm was pulled from its socket and he was tossed overhead by the powerful pull. Unable to swim he clung to the boom of his arm and his pilot was noticed by Captain Howard and Edward Burns, who rescued him.

SOVIET HOLDS THEODORE DREISER; FRIENDS ANXIOUS

London, Nov. 8 (I.B.).—Anxious inquiries were being made today by friends of Theodore Dreiser, American author, following a report that he was being held a virtual prisoner at Moscow as a result of having lost his passport. It was understood here that Dreiser was unable to produce identification papers of any sort to satisfy the Soviet authorities.

Friends of the American writer here said they understood Dreiser went to Russia as the special agent for the Soviet authorities to attend the tenth anniversary celebration and to write of conditions as he saw them.

FURS One Year to Pay CONFIDENCE

Through confidence we have built up one of the most successful fur businesses in Boston.

We always give honest advice to all customers, whether we lose the sale or not.

We would rather lose a sale any time than sell a coat just for the profit it might yield.

We often lose a customer for one season, but the next season that same customer is back with us and becomes our best booster, together with her whole family.

We are successful for the reason that we never misrepresent—the buying public soon finds this out.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY

Maids and Matrons of Boston's Upper Strata Busily Engaged in Work to Assist the North Bennet Street Industrial School to Carry On

ONE CAN'T HELP HAVING AN INTEREST IN ADMINISTRATION FOR THE carefree social butterfly. Observe her in the social dining at breathless speed through a first winter. Observe her also, when she ceases to flutter her wings in the frivolous social flames, ceases to be a butterfly, and turns her energies and her talents to life's more serious pursuits. When she rides a hobby with vim and dash. Observe the girls who serve so earnestly and faithfully each week at one of Society's pet institutions for well doing, the North Bennet Street Industrial School, down in the old North End.

OBSERVE ALSO, THE GIRLS AND YOUNG MATRONS DOING SO REMARKABLE
a work at Courtwright House, the School's upstart establishment. It's no glorious job the gay young things take on. They buckle right down industriously, much as though their daily bread depended on their individual efforts. At Courtwright House, Miss Margery Richardson, Miss Rosemond Bradford, Mrs. Freeman Allen and Mrs. Elizabeth Lyman Rice are devoted hand doing a marvelous service.

DOWN AT THE SCHOOL THE BAND OF WORKERS ALREADY IS FAIRLY large, and each day has its quota of new outcasts. Those who have already "joined up" for this winter are Miss Agnes Boardman, Miss Sally Parker, Miss Gladys Bislow, Miss Charlotte Taintor, Miss Martha Chase, Miss Priscilla Cornish, Miss Helen Mason and Mrs. Franklin T. Hurlbut, Jr.

FOR LO, THERE MANY YEARS HAS THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL ENJOYED A patronage from Society's very upmost strata. And the School's late Autumn sale is an occasion when everyone in Society fairly storms the place, intent on purchasing the very choicest antique and quaint, brought over each year by that connoisseur, George C. Grosvenor. Each Summer Mr. Grosvenor travels into the far places and each Autumn he returns with a rare collection to embellish the annual sale.

ENDOWED WITH TASTE, RARE ACTIVENESS AND A CANNY KNOWLEDGE OF exactly where to go, he delves into little known parts of the Continent and the British Isles. Peasants' huts and dog's palaces alike yield him treasures. Rug makers of Asia Minor make rendezvous with him, to their own satisfaction and to his. From the arts and industries of the Old World come countless exquisite things to adorn the sale. Each collection Mr. Grosvenor makes, outruns in beauty and uniqueness, all its predecessors, and the coming sale will outrank them all, for his foreign travels this past Summer have borne splendid fruit.

INVARIABLELY THE SALE OPENS WITH A TEA, VERY SMART AND SWANKY, with Society playing a triple role, that of server, purchaser and buyer. To say that the Smart Set fairly swarms down on the school to have first view of the sale is but putting the case mildly. Selling goes with a rush, for Madame not Monsieur are here on the scene of a bargain, and they buy for themselves, for their about-to-be-married kin, for their aunts and their cousins and for the "Christmas list." Mrs. Henry Lyman and associates of the board are just perfecting plans for this season's sale.

GRANDPARENT HONORS HAVING DESCENDED ON MR. AND MRS. OOPFREY
HARDING ROBINSON, there is great rejoicing. Their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Ludlow of Akron, Ohio, are proud parents of a little daughter, born last Saturday and named Eleanor Harding for her mother. The little newcomer first saw the light of day at Phillips House, where so many important connections make their abode. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have come from the country place in Franklin, called "Robinson" and are at the Miles Standish for the winter.

JUST AS REGULARLY AS THE SUMMER TIME GIVES WAY TO AUTUMN, DO THE T. HANDS CABOTS of Boston and Dublin, forsake these shores for their favorite foreign playgrounds. They sail today on the steamship De Grasse, and as usual, their second daughter, Miss Pauline Cabot, goes with them. To a Boston establishment (which they seldom occupy) and a charming place on Dublin Lake, the Cabots have added a third domicile, a villa in Florence, where they find life exactly to their liking.

THE DE GRASSE ALSO HAS ABOARD TODAY EDGAR W. ANTHONY AND HIS MOTHER, MRS. C.
W. ANTHONY of Manchester, come over as usual for the winter. And also, taking a car with them. Other New Englanders welcome for the Old World include Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Baker of West Falmouth, whose names also appear on the De Grasse list.

HUB TUBERCULOSIS BODY
PLANS RUMMAGE SALE

The Auxiliary of the Boston Tuberculosis Association will gather at the headquarters of the Association, No. 554 Columbus Avenue next Thursday afternoon to conduct a rummage sale for a tuberculosis plan for a tuberculosis plan.
Mrs. George H. Hume, of the chapter, the president, will take charge. The proceeds of the sale will help to furnish the new winter of Prudential Prevention, and it is to open in January. Miss Alice Haskins, one of the Prevention workers, will address the meeting, with a talk on "Health Education of the Parents."

ENVOY, SHOT IN MYSTERY, DIES UNDER KNIFE

Washington, Nov. 8 (A.P.)—Senator Francis Pickens, later, was shot to death in the United States and one of the most widely known and respected members of the Senate.

He was reported upon Saturday for a slight ailment. It was believed that his strength, taxed perhaps by a slight ailment, was not equal to the strain. The shooting was the result of a conspiracy.

News of the killing of Sen. Latter had been withheld from the public until shortly before his death.
His five years of diplomatic life in Washington had been marked by frequent incidents which brought him into the public eye.

In July, when Henry caused his death, he was named in a court case. He was charged with the murder of a woman, a sister of John A. Armstrong of Washington. He was charged with the WOMEN—FREE!

You BUY 2 Boxes of Kotex for 98¢
You GET One Full-Sized Box FREE

*Thus you receive 3 boxes on payment of only 98¢—Offer
Limited—Act Promptly*

Made to acquaint all women with the remarkable protective features of KOTEX—features found in no other sanitary accessory known

TO show women the remarkable difference and vastly greater protection of Kotex over any other sanitary accessory known, this unique offer is made . . . three regular 65c boxes of Kotex, a $1.95 value, on payment of 98c.

Go today to any store in this city, or out of town, where Kotex is sold and take advantage of this opportunity. But do not delay. All dealers' stocks are limited. If you come late, you cannot be supplied.

The difference between Kotex and other sanitary pads

Kotex is utterly different from all other sanitary pads. There is no other "like" Kotex.

Kotex is the one and only sanitary pad filled with the super-absorbent Cellucotton wadding.

Thus Kotex has the amazing power of absorbing 16 times its own weight in moisture! Thus Kotex has 5 times the absorbency of the ordinary cotton-filled pad! Think what this means in protection.

Because of these exclusive features Kotex has changed the hygienic habits of the world. It has made sheerest frocks safe under the most trying hygienic handicap women know. Eight in ten better-class women of America have adopted Kotex—for health's sake and for peace-of-mind.

Discards like tissue—No disposal problem
One uses Kotex, then discards it—as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry. No problem of disposal. Think, too, what this means.

Deodorizes while it acts

Another factor is that KOTEX is scientifically permeated—under a process applied to no other sanitary pad—with a highly effective deodorant.

That means that Kotex deodorizes thoroughly and absolutely as it acts. Which banishes another old-time fear of women.

More than a "sanitary pad"— True, Scientific Protection

Kotex comes as the result of years of scientific experiment.

It is made under hospital standards of sanitation and safety.

It embodies scientific protection that is sure and positive . . . features unknown to any other sanitary accessory in the world today.

Accept this offer

Today accept the remarkable offer named above on Kotex.

Find out for yourself why millions of women use it. Find out why experts say, "Only Kotex itself is 'like' Kotex—Only Kotex itself is Kotex."

This amazing bargain now on display at your favorite store. Take advantage of this offer today

IMPORTANT!

Why gamble with substitutes hospitals have tried and rejected?

More than 75% of all recognized hospitals in America use Cellucotton absorbent wadding in their surgical departments—the same material that is used exclusively as a filler in Kotex pads.

Many hospitals have tried substitutes for Cellucotton wadding, but have returned to the exclusive use of this marvelous absorbent, which towers above all low-quality absorbents.

Good hospitals and reputable surgeons take no chances with their patients. Why then should you allow any merchant to substitute a pad made of inferior material when you wish the only original Kotex?

In spite of cheaper substitutes, hospitals have purchased at regular prices 1,441,132 Kotex pads this year for their patients. Doctors insist on Kotex for patients. Will you accept less?

BETTER FURNITURE

RADIO MAIL
by
C. WILLIAM RADOS

MEDFORD HILLSIDE eight years ago had a broadcaster known as WGL, "The Voice of the Air." His amateur status earned him the title of "The Voice of the Air." Technically speaking, it was probably the first in the U. S. but it did not operate regularly.

A few amateurs had private broadcast stations, as now, it was a highly desirable and awe-inspiring thing to listen to. I-F-L was over in Medford, near WGL. The broadcast was on about 125 meters and sounded like the reading of the dictionary. Nevertheless all the neighbors who heard it were awed when they heard this mysterious voice growing through the radio.

A dance orchestra presents a simple problem in playing popular music well through an average radio and universally popular. We suspect the few people who can't appreciate a headline dance orchestra are the exception who prove the rule.

Leo Reisman has his idea of music on a telephone in front of the orchestra. He has a microphone and strings that give him musical mixture. They didn't have and point to the limit of their range thereby actually allowing some of the overtones to come through. And they impressed us as a group of amateurs.

Pleasant DX last evening for the man who had nothing else to do. But not very long. But still we were satisfied with the local WEEI, WWSW, WZZ, New York WJZ, Newark WGI, Schenectady WKA, Pittsburgh WEAN, Providence WJAG, Worcester WTR, Hartford and WJIC, Bridgeport, and our score. All were flooding in with great strength. KDKA and WZZ being better than in a long time. No static, but some heterodyning.

The next morning was Red Nichols and his Pennie Chasers via Columbia. A smooth, catchy orchestra.

The last evening was the W. G. M. hour. What an hour! Poor G. M. What a tough time it will have keeping up with the high standard it set.

First, there was a period of high unapproachable music by a symphony orchestra with three soloists and all that. Then they switched over to the best variety show WEEI has had for a long time.

While Collier mastered cornet, Jessica Dragonetti sang so richly we listened to her through Jessie don't know we never played through a woman's singing before and actually liking it.

She sang "Nanchy Baby" but there was no adequate background of supporting band, solo for better, etc. Doubtless this will be corrected.

"The Three Cheers" a marimba combination and another band. But we carried away an impression of Jessica's singing. And Jessica singing with Lewis James "Moon and June and You." To it again.

A new-label, electrified radio was used.

RADIO IS BETTER WITH BATTERY POWER

Radio is no better than the "B" current

This quality of your radio reception depends on the source of your "B" power. With batteries, radio is at its best. But there is a great difference in batteries. The big Eveready Layerbilt No. 486 will outlast any other Eveready Battery—and Evereadies are noted for their smooth, steady, silent power and long-lasting qualities.

The patented Eveready Layerbilt is the only battery of its kind. Built in layers that occupy all available space inside the case, it contains more active materials than any other battery of equal size. For that reason it provides more electricity. It is actually the longest-lasting and most economical battery you can buy. The reputation and resources of its makers, the National Carbon Company, stand back of it.

ATWATER
KENT RADIOTremendous saving in the world's finest radio

IT IS the genius of American industry that when sweeping demand brings huge production—prices drop.

While others were still struggling in the experimental stages, scientific production became a reality in the immense Atwater Kent factory.
Amazing economies in manufacture kept step with equally amazing improvements in Atwater Kent Radio products.

Now—at the peak of radio perfection—Atwater Kent mass production has attained the ultimate reward—sensational savings.

Only six months ago the superb Model 35, at $70, was recognized the world over as the biggest value in radio. This model, now greatly improved, is today priced at $49.

This reduction in prices, by the unquestioned leader in radio, is epochal. Atwater Kent Radio now takes its place, full grown, alongside of other great American industries that pass their savings on to their customers.
